

ABOUT LANGUAGE TREE

Language Tree publishes educational DVDs that teach children foreign languages by embedding lessons into colorful short stories and fun sing-along songs.

Language Tree videos make it easy to learn a new language by teaching new words and phrases using engaging visuals and audio reinforcement. These videos feature native-speaking actors together with 3D animation, interactive games and upbeat music by a Hollywood composer.

While Language Tree strives to make learning fun, our products are highly effective as well. All Language Tree products incorporate our Multi-Cognition Approach™. This unique learning methodology developed by one of the founders, a Stanford University PhD in Cognitive Sciences, enables children to learn a language more quickly and better retain what they learned.

Our products teach high-demand languages such as Spanish, Mandarin Chinese, French and English as a Second Language. We will continue to expand our offering to include other languages (Sign Language for Babies/Toddlers, American Sign, Italian, Japanese, etc.) as well as new forms of educational media.
